Nervous Prostration Cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Prolonged derangement of the nervous Prolonged derangement of the nervous system not only affects the brain and mental powers, but develops disease in some of the vital organs. The most dangerous of these indirect results is when the heart is affected. This was the case of the Rev. N. F. Surface, Favn River, Mich., who writes note of the 14 No. der date of Feb. 14, 1806;

"Fourteen years ago I had a slight stroke of paralysis. Overwork brought on nervous prostration. I was exceedingly nervous and the exertion of public speaking caused heart palpitation that threatened my life I used two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart I used two solcies of Dr. anies now heart Ouro for my heart trouble, and two of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for my nervous-ness and feel better than I ever expected to feel again. I can speak for hours without tiring or having my heart flutter as it for-merly did, and I have you to thank that I am alive today.

THE MORE SETTLED CONDITION

Of Things on Wall Street Following the War Scare-Effect of the Impending New Loan-Banks and the Treasury Bound Together-The Increased Output

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Since the ex-citement connected with the Venezuelan scare, Wall street has fallen into a subdued mood. It has no longer the daily alarm of London and continental kets have apparently nothing more they want to sell, and seem quite will-ing to keep what they hold for future developments. This naturally produ-ces a more settled feeling on the stock exchange; but it has not yet produced buying, partly because the holiday in-terruption of business is in force and will continue until next week, when the drift of the market will be more apparent.

discussion about the effect of the impending new loan, the majority opinion evidently being that it wil prove to be a substantial "buil' factor. Nothing yet substantial "bull factor. Nothing yet has been officially revealed as to the de-tails of the loan. Unofficial outgivings however make it certain that the sub-scribers will undertake to purchase 200 millions of the 4s of 1875, should the scribers will undertake to purchase 200 millions of the 4s of 1875, should the government so require; but at the same time the amount to be taken at present will not exceed 100 millions, and probably those will be taken up in instalments extending over a few months. The bonds will be payable in "coin;" and will be palf for in gold; which, at the reported price of 104, would transfer to the government 104 millions of gold. At first sight this operation, especially as it will be entirely confined to the home market, may seem calculated to produce a sharp stringency in the money market. That effect, however, would depend upon what the treasury might do to ward off such a result.

The treasury is certainly very vitally interested in using any power it possesses to avert stringency; and the power it has to do that is considerable. The secretary of the treasury has authority to keep any amount of the cash balance on deposit with the banks, receiving United States bonds as coilateral to a like amount. His present working belance would easily admit of his depositing 75 millions of legal tenders with the banks, which would prevent any injurious stringency, although it might permit a full 5 per cent market rate of interest. Such a rate would be a positive gain under existing circumstances; for in so far as it exceeded the European rate it would tend to keep foreign call balances here and might even bring gold to this side of the Atlantic.

As matters now look, there is every prospect of the loan arrangements be-even bring gold to this side of the Atlantic.

As matters now look, there is every prospect of the loan arrangements being consummated within the course of a few days. The banks not only of this city but of the country at large have become thoroughly aroused to the importance of making common cause with the treasury in elevating the status of the demand obligations of the government. The spectacle of the country's banks offering to lend the treasury one-fourth of their capital to sustain its honor is one that will not fall of its merited effect upon the respect and the confidence of Europe, and it must uitimately have a valuable bearing upon the transactiantic estimation of our securities.

The banks and the United States

curities.

The banks and the United States treasury are bound together inseparably at the present time. United they stand, divided they fail. United States legal tender notes are to the banks what blood is to the human body. If the blood becomes foul the body is sure to be inoculated with disease. So with the legal tender notes—if they are not kept in a sound condition the veins throughout the banking system imbibe the virus attached to them. The banks and the government must puil together waill cay can safely pull apart, and that they cannot safely do until we obtain gold enough in the country to take the place of the legal tenders. This devoutly to be desired condition will in all probability come about in the course of a few years by the increase of our precious metal production. In this country the hunt is now for gold and not for silver. The former is in fashion—the latter is not. This is an age of invention—necessity inspires inventive genius. Until recently, mines with ore that did not produce several ounces of gold can be extracted is now remunerative.

This is the principal reason for the in-The banks and the United States crative.

This is the principal reason for the increased output of gold. It will surely bring about gold infaction not unlike that caused by the discovery of gold in California in 1899. Who are the rich men of to-day? Prominently among them are the Mills. Floods, Mackays. Hursts. Crockers. Fairs, Huntlagtons and Hopkins—all California multi-millionaires, and all of whom when the gold fever broke out were dashing young men, venturesome and enterprising. They pushed to the new Eidorado almost on foot and have all come back in their four-in-hands. History repeats itself. The same thing is going on now. The gold mines in Colorado, Arizona. Nevada and elsewhere are calling the rising generation of young men to make their golden mark, as did the brilliant youths whom I have referred to do in 1849. Who knows what they wont do in meeting the present crase for gold? This, it appears to me, is the way out of our present greenback difficulty, and it it so results—and surely it will or else all indications fail—then, and not till then, will it do to take up and cancel the greenbacks to supplement them by gold coin. Meanwhile it were better to "bear those ills we have rather than fly to others that we know not of." Greenbacks are good money until we can get better, and that only is gold.
